

Pallavi is a skilled and diligent worker. I was impressed by how much she got done so quickly. She had the determination to navigate nearly all of her section on her own and the humility to ask for help when needed. Her knowledge of built-in Bootstrap classes is evident, and she was also receptive to feedback. She works well with the team, and I was lucky to have her as a teammate.

We spoke and she was nervous about working with a new team because of her English. I responded that I think she communicates very well, and that it has been wonderful working with her. I hope some of her communication concerns have been alleviated by this experience, because it was a good one.

Arianna is a meticulous and focused worker. She did not push her work for a good while, but when she did it was apparent why - she was working intensely and with great detail to replicate perhaps the hardest page to format. I believe that she managed that with great success. She also effectively communicated her movements to the team, mitigating merge conflicts and encouraging collaboration. Also, Arianna was responsible for us successfully acquiring and using the Montauk fonts.

I was impressed by Ari's formatting, and I plan to study her execution on my own time to understand how it was replicated. I think Ari's main strength is her fine eye for detail. I could learn a lot from her.

Overall, I believe we worked well together.

On a personal level, I feel confident in the execution of my portion. I used a variety of techniques covered in class and challenged myself when it came to the reconfiguration of the responsive layout. As I worked on my own sections, I periodically checked in with my teammates about potential syncs and group progress. I welcomed feedback to improve my own project and also offered potential solutions when teammates ran into issues. I worked diligently during school hours as well as during some leisure time. I'm proud of how we came together to launch the final project.

As for my role within the team, my goals (in conjunction with successfully replicating my portion of the project) were to be communicative, helpful, and available to my teammates. I believe I successfully accomplished that. Although it was not intentional, I feel I wound up somewhat in a position of leadership for our group. I think it has to do with the fact that I am direct, and I am constantly striving for improvement. Even though I have strong opinions, I do my best to approach what I say respectfully. I believe I effectively conveyed that my input was from a kind and positive place.
